

65 Trips Around the Sun

If you've been round the sun more than 65 times,
It's amazing what you've probably seen.
Retirement age is a privilege, an honor,
Means you're smarter than a teen.

Phones used to be dialed, TV had no color,
And fancy expensive cars had no brain.
Now if you don't have a "smart" in it all,
Kids look at you like you're insane.

You remember when people talked to each other,
Without a silly vibrating box in their hand.
There were no such things as flying drones,
We simply had toy planes powered by rubber-bands.

Only Dick Tracy talked to his watch,
The rest of us had telephone party-lines.
Library books had covers with tiny pockets,
So, you'd know when to return them on time.

With a couple more times around the sun,
Us seniors will eventually be terribly lost,
Until someone needs help calculating change,
We'll help these youngsters figure the cost!
