

A Syringe of Adrenaline

A syringe of adrenaline can change your audacity,
Increasing heart rate, air flow and muscle capacity.
It can make a weak person strong for a moment in time,
And save a soul when a life's on the line.

It can come naturally; almost out of the blue,
Allowing you to do more than you thought possible to do.
It is most commonly known as Epinephrine, or EpiPen,
Used for allergic reactions so the body can function again.

When your body shuts down from a bee sting or spider,
The EpiPen is ready to make blood vessels much wider.
Increased blood flow is often all that you need,
To return the body to it's natural super speed!
