

Air Pods

Air pods, what an amazing invention,
One more thing to distract us from paying attention.
The sound is incredible, like being in the front row,
With absolutely no cords dangling from your chin below.

They fit snugly in your ears, until they fall out,
And hide extremely well when left lying about.
They can be easily stolen, but have no fears,
The thief must wear them after they were in your ears.

So, with mixed emotions I got my first pair,
The sound was amazing, and they could go anywhere.
I never left them out of my sight, until in my ears they went,
And just like that, the music became glorious and heaven sent.

I promised I would never take them out, not even in the shower,
I listened to my trusty Air Pods hour after hour.
But I quickly found out, Air Pods do not really shower well,
Now left with two worthless little plastic globs, all I could do was yell!
