

Ed Sheeran

If you saw Ed Sheeran pass you by,

You might not even blink an eye.

But, as one of the best musicians of the 21st century,

You'll know his music almost certainly.

His music touches you, without getting up in your face,

It's heard wherever you go and from place to place.

Born in good ole' England, but travelled to L.A.,

Jamie Fox discovered him, and he was well on his way.

Now 38 million album sales later, he tops most charts,

With music that touches everyone's hearts.

100 million singles are kind of hard to ignore,

He's made himself a name that certainly opens many doors.

His folksy pop sound and incredible range and style,

Make people want to hear him for quite a long while.

He tells a cool story with each song he writes,

And his music makes the world just seem right.
