

Joe Biden

Joe Biden came through the election and was the last one left,
In one of the closest elections we've ever seen yet.
With Kamala as his running mate, he chose the first woman of color,
To be part of a platform unlike any other.

President Joe Biden is now leading our great nation,
In a democratic surge full of standing ovations.
Keeping his promises will cost quite a bit,
And some wonder how the budget will fit.

Equality, better roads, vaccinations for all,
Trying to keep our country from a dizzying steep fall.
He has experience in Washington and has been there for many years,
Now he has to fit in a visit from the Super Bowl champ Buccaneers.

Whether you are on the left or very far to the right,
Be proud of all of America and its great history and might.
Joe will try to bring our country back together
Let's please stop fighting and make America great forever!
