

Spring Bling

After a relatively colorless winter,
It's time to get your bling on.
Nature is a whole lot different,
Once the snow is finally gone.

The calendar says spring is in March,
But that depends on where you live.
In Green Bay or Chicago, it comes around in June,
In Minnesota later, depending what mother nature gives!

But every year between March and June,
A few flowers will poke out.
And in a blink they're waving everywhere .
Carpets of color scattered all about.

It's like God is bragging,
"I'll make art from this dull dirt."
"And yes, Dwayne Johnson,
It's now time to tear off your shirt!"

Any bling adds to spring's beauty,
But quick turn and take a picture,
Because winter returns promptly in September
And the bling runs to hide from the coming blizzard!
