

Summer

Summer takes so long to arrive,
We see neighbors that thru the winter did survive.
Some went south for the whole winter and spring,
Others bunkered down to sleep and to dream.

But now that summertime is officially here,
The school kids let out the biggest cheer.
Time to hit the beach or hit a beach ball,
When the sun is out, it's fun time for all.

Days are longer, and nights are shorter,
And I'm the biggest summer supporter.
Whether you're hiking or biking, mowing or throwing,
There's much more to do when it's not always snowing.

Barbeques and basketballs in every back yard,
Teens laying on blankets watching the stars.
Summer is here, so have some cool summer fun,
There's plenty to go around for everyone.
