

Waking Up

They say that waking up is hard to do,
In my life, that certainly is very very true.
I have a “snooze” on my alarm, and a “snooze” for that too,
It is amazing how many alarms I frequently go through.

I have an alarm to tell me my alarm is about to go off,
I have alarms that beep, buzz, play music, or cough.
Waking up is by far my least favorite thing,
I really hate to hear that damn alarm ring and ring.

I have skills, can sleep through it hollering my name,
To me, each alarm sounds alarmingly the same.
But now I don't really know what I should do
Because I'm an alarm clock maker and I just lost my loupes.
